

I used to avoid listening to Obama's speeches. Now, I look forward to the next one.

Here is something to help make Obama's speeches almost tolerable. Just print this page, distribute it to friends, then tune in to his next speech.....

BARACK'S BULLSHIT

LET ME BE CLEAR	HELD ACCOUNTABLE	HISTORIC	MAKE NO MISTAKE	I'VE SAID TIME AND TIME AGAIN
UH, I, UH, UMMM	CRISIS	PAHK-EE-STAHN	WORST ECONOMY SINCE THE GREAT DEPRESSION	SAVED OR CREATED
GAME CHANGER	THERE ARE THOSE WHO SAY	PREVIOUS ADMINISTRATION	INHERITED	BACK FROM THE BRINK
UNPRECEDENTED	FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY	I, ME, MY	NOT ONE DIME	TRANSPARENT
THAT'S SIMPLY NOT TRUE	THE SYSTEM IS BROKEN	YOU CAN KEEP YOUR PRESENT PLAN	RESTORE OUR REPUTATION	CHOICE AND COMPETITION

Rules for Bullshit Bingo:

1. Before Barrack Obama's next televised speech, print your "Bullshit

Bingo."

2. Check off the appropriate block when you hear one of those words/phrases.

3. When you get five blocks horizontally, vertically, or diagonally, stand up and shout "BULLSHIT!"

Disrespectful and irreverent, but funny! It is a shame these are the issues he has to deal with, but to avoid them is to retreat to "morning in America" pabulum. To not take it seriously is a mistake. Ridicule has its place in exposing hypocrisy, but to ridicule consistency is hypocritical.
